Online Homeschool for Cambridge Learners

Saving Grace Education is a Cambridge Online Homeschool Distance Education Provider. We support homeschooling families from Reception through to AS Level. Our goal is to equip learners with international-standard knowledge while supporting the values of home education.

Important Note: We are not a Cambridge school, but a Cambridge homeschool provider. For Reception to Year 9, parents must register their child with the Department of Education in South Africa. From IGCSE to AS Level, students are private candidates and must register for exams through an official Cambridge exam centre.

Cambridge Exam Options for Private Candidates in South Africa

Private candidates who wish to write Cambridge IGCSE or AS Level exams can register through the following centres:

British Council South Africa

Locations: Johannesburg, Pretoria, Cape Town

Website: britishcouncil.org.za

Local Cambridge Schools

Many registered Cambridge schools in South Africa accept private candidates. Parents must contact schools directly to confirm registration processes, subject availability, and fees.

Visit the Cambridge International website or contact the British Council for the latest list of approved centres.

Cambridge Assessments

Cambridge provides optional assessments for tracking academic progress:

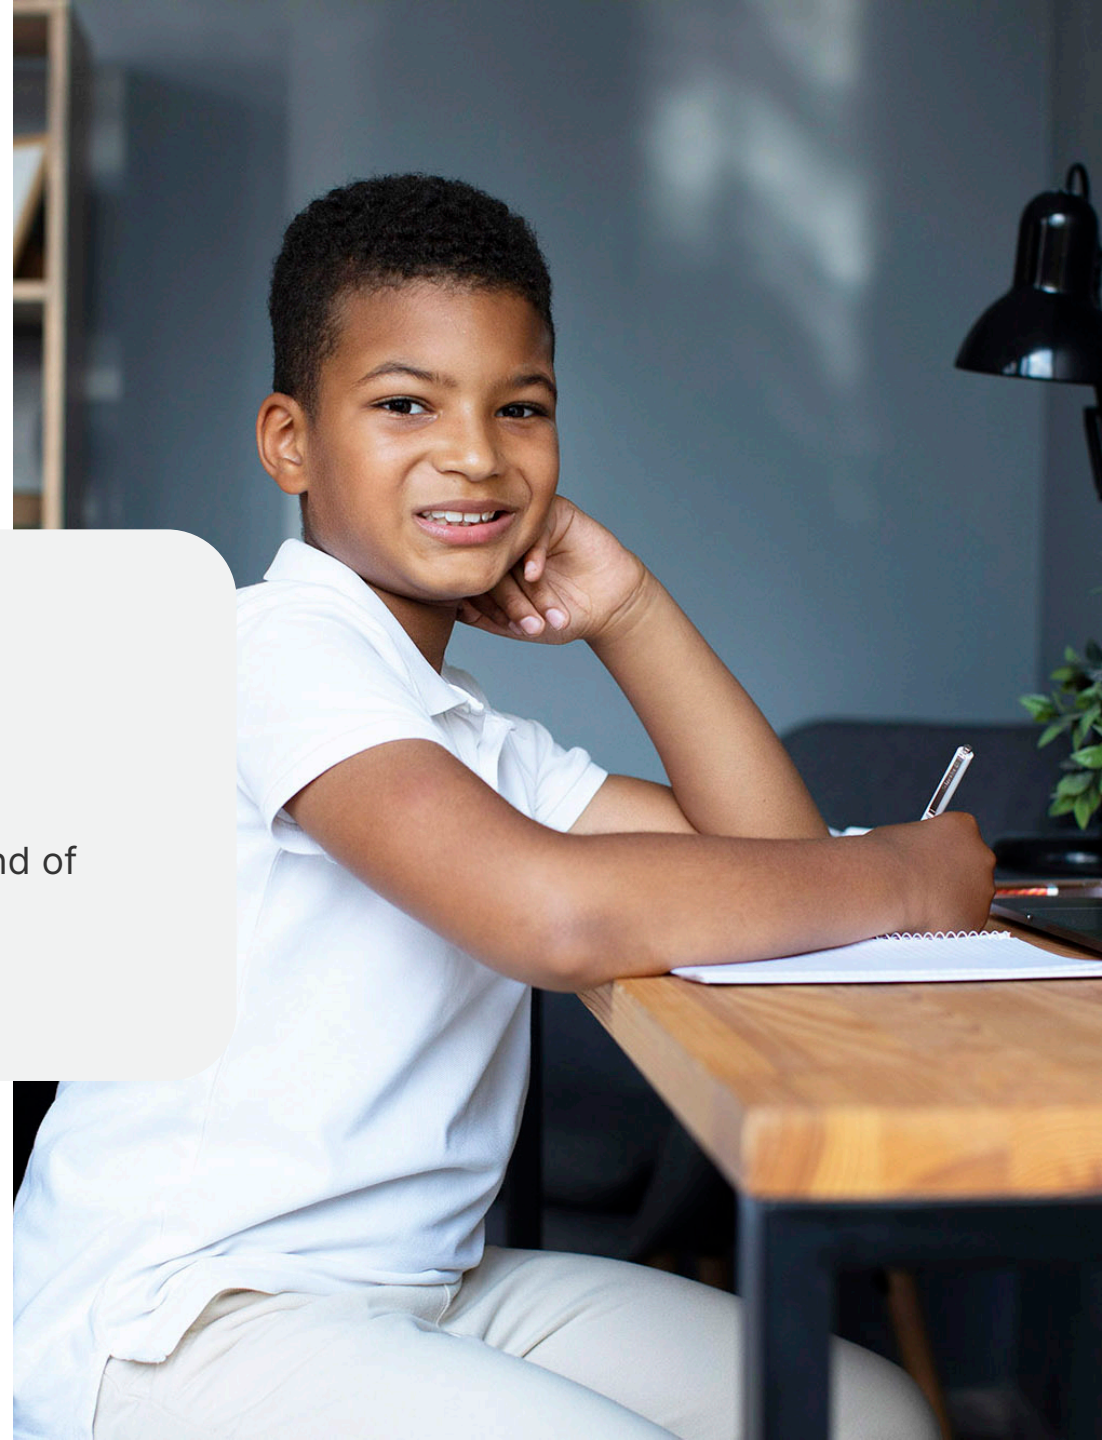

Progression Tests

Internal assessments in English, Maths, and Science (Stages 3 to 6)

Checkpoint Exams

Administered at the end of Year 6 and Year 9

IGCSE & AS Level Exam Sessions

Cambridge International offers two official exam sessions each year:

- May/June
- October/November

Each subject includes 1 to 3 papers, and the exam session can last 4 to 6 weeks. Your final exam timetable will be based on your selected subjects.

Registration Requirements

To register, you will typically need the following:

- Copy of your ID or passport
- Subject list with syllabus and component codes (provided by Saving Grace)
- Passport-size photo
- Proof of payment
- Online application form completed through the exam centre (e.g., British Council website)

What Age Must You Be?

There is no official age requirement. Most students are between 15 and 18 years old when writing IGCSE or AS Level exams. Younger or older learners may write if they are prepared.

How Long Do You Study Before Writing?

Most private candidates prepare over 2 years:

- Year 1: Begin syllabus and assignments (typically Grade 10)
- Year 2: Complete syllabus, revise, write past papers (typically Grade 11 for IGCSE or Grade 12 for AS Level)

Some motivated learners fast-track their studies and complete the course in 1 year.

What Happens After You Write?

Once you write your exams:

- May/June results are released in August
- October/November results are released in January

You will receive official Cambridge results directly from your exam centre.
